

ALYSSA (GUTIERREZ) FORMYDUVAL CURRICULUM VITAE

Highland, IN 46322 | 219-742-3124 | Alyformy@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Doctor of Occupational Therapy Post Professional Degree
Indiana University, Indianapolis Expected 2018

Certification in Stroke Rehabilitation
(Certified Stroke Rehabilitation Specialist) 2016

Master of Science in Occupational Therapy
Indiana University, Indianapolis 2014

Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology
Indiana University, Indianapolis 2012

"Education is one of the most important aspects of my life as I consider myself a lifelong learner. Anytime an opportunity comes my way to further my knowledge and understanding of occupational therapy, I try to commit to enhancing my knowledge, skills, and abilities. I felt that it was my duty to complete my doctoral education to become a better practitioner and explore ways to give back to my chosen field."

AWARDS

2014 Carol Nathan Leadership Award	February 2014
Pi Theta Epsilon Member (Academic Fraternity)	January 2013-June 2014
IUPUI Top 100 Student Award Recipient	April 2012
Chancellor's Award for Outstanding Undergraduate Research	April 2012
Adapted Physical Activity Council National Student Recognition Award	March 2012
2 nd Place Oral Presentation Competition Indiana LSAMP State Conference	November 2011

"Participation in various scholarly programs (such as Diversity Scholars Research Program at IUPUI) has opened many doors for me, including many of the above stated awards. By being a part of these programs, I have been able to participate in research projects throughout my entire collegiate education. These experiences have improved my skills in critical thinking, knowledge translation, and reasoning."

CAREER EXPERIENCE

Supervisor, Inpatient Therapy Services, Wound Ostomy Department
St. Catherine Hospital, Community Healthcare System January 2017 – Present

Occupational Therapist
Community Healthcare System July 2014 – Present

Graduate Research Assistant
Department of Occupational Therapy, Indiana University, Indianapolis May 2012-June 2014

"Clinical experiences, like working in the hospital setting, has allowed me to transfer my skills acquired through my education into professional practice. These experiences have allowed me to continue my education with real life situations. I am progressing my skills as an occupational therapist on a daily basis by working with patients."

PUBLICATIONS AND PAPERS

- | | |
|---|-------------|
| Liu, C.-j., Jones, L. Y., Formyduval, A. R., & Clark, D. O. Task-Oriented Exercise to Reduce ADL Disability in Vulnerable Elderly: A. Journal of Aging and Physical Activity. | IN PRESS |
| Liu, C.-J., Gutierrez A.R.M., Jones, L., & Clark, D. (May 2014). Feasibility of 3-Step Workout for Life Program to Prevent Late-Life ADL Disability. Third summit of occupational therapy scholars. Philadelphia, PA. [Oral presentation] | SPRING 2014 |
| Gutierrez A.R.M. & Stanton, K. (November 2011). Effectiveness of At-home Based Physical Activity Intervention for Children with Intellectual Disabilities. Indiana LSAMP State Conference. Lafayette, IN. [Oral presentation] | FALL 2011 |
| Refereed: IAHPERD Spring 2010 publication of 'Physical Therapists' Understanding of Physical Education' IAHPERD Journal | SPRING 2010 |

"As stated above, my participation in research programs has allowed me to develop my talents in presenting my research and writing formal publications. The development of my capstone research project in the doctoral program is allowing me to continue to develop these skills."

MEMBERSHIPS

American Occupational Therapy Association
Indiana Occupational Therapy Association

"By maintaining memberships to professional organizations relevant to my practice, I am able to be updated on current issues in practice and network with other professionals in my field."